

students of Jones County Junior College are afforded the opportunity of participation in the institutional decision-making process via the Student Government Association, which serves as an effective and responsible link between the student body and the school administration in changing student policies when the need for such becomes apparent. Recommendations proposed by the Student Government Association are forwarded to the Vice President of Student Affairs for consideration. The Vice President of Student Affairs then forwards the recommendations to the President of the College for his decision.

The following clubs and organizations are also available to students: Association of Child Development Technology (ACDT), African-American Student Organizations (AASO), Agriculture, Association of Information Technology Professionals (AITP), *Alpha Beta Gamma, Baptist Student Union, College Democrats, College Republicans, Skills USA, Engineering Society, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Food Production, Forestry, Horticulture Club, Student Nurse Organization (SNO), Health Occupations Students of America (HOSA), Pharmacy Tech., Phi Beta Lambda (PBL), Phi Beta Lambda (Tech), Political Science Club, Phi Theta Kappa (PTK), Publications Club, Student Government Association (SGA), Reformed University Fellowship (RUF), Nontraditional Student Association (NTSA), Science Club, University Mothers Against Drunk Driving (UMADD), and Wesley Foundation.

Alpha Beta Gamma is an international junior and community college honor society for students in the business curricula for the purpose of recognizing scholarship, leadership, and service. Eligibility for membership in ABG requires students to be enrolled in a business curriculum and have completed a minimum of 15 credit hours with at least 12 hours being in courses leading to a degree recognized by the institution. Students must possess qualities of citizenship and have established academic excellence of a 3.0 GPA in business courses as well as a 3.0 overall average.

*Phi Theta Kappa (PTK) is the international honor society for two-year colleges, promoting scholarship, leadership, service, and fellowship. Eligibility for membership in PTK is based on a grade point average of 3.5 for all college work completed before election. During the semester preceding election and the semester of election, students must be enrolled in a minimum of 15 semester hours of academic courses.

Religious organizations include the Baptist Student Union, Wesley Foundation (Methodist), Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and Association of Baptist Students. These religious organizations contribute to student life under the direction of capable leaders.

Publications

The purpose of student publications is to provide a record of activities and offer students opportunities for experience in journalism through the campus newspaper (Radonian) and College yearbook (Lair). Students participate in the publication of the Radonian and Lair while enrolled in journalism classes.