

AGRIBUSINESS AND AGRICULTURAL ECONOMICS

JCJC CURRICULUM SHEET

The Agribusiness major provides training in business including accounting, management, marketing, finance and economics, along with training in the agricultural sciences. A student who plans to work in an off-farm agricultural profession can greatly enhance his or her training for a particular specialty by carefully choosing the courses in the chosen area of interest.

The program of study is designed to give the student considerable flexibility in his or her chosen field of study and to prepare him or her for career positions with all types of firms involved in getting food and fiber to the consumer. See NOTES for the Agricultural Economics major.

PRE-AGRIBUSINESS AND PRE-AGRICULTURAL ECONOMICS -- NOTES:

An alternative major, Agricultural Economics, an alternative major provides basic training in farm management, production economics, marketing and demand, and rural and resource development. Emphasis is on production agriculture and the economics of resource development and use. Individuals who plan to farm and seek employment with agencies directly involved with farmers would be well prepared for such a position under this alternative curriculum. Working with the JCJC advisor, either program of study may be planned using the sample curriculum as the beginning framework for outlining the courses for transfer.

Students without an adequate high school math background, which includes a minimum of Algebra II, should enroll in a preparatory math course, such as Basic Math, Beginning Algebra or Intermediate Algebra, prior to College Algebra. Preparatory math courses will not transfer to other institutions.

Additionally, students should plan to complete no more than half of the hours required for a bachelor's degree prior to transferring to the senior institution. The student should consult the catalog of the senior institution for specific admissions procedures and other details concerning the program of study.

This CHECK SHEET should be used to keep a careful record of grades for each of the courses and should be presented to the student's advisor for planning the schedule of courses each semester at JCJC.
